gaged in the struggle that followed and in the final assault on Manilla, August 13th, 1898.

In 1890 his regiment was ordered back to the states to recuperate from the effects of a tropical climate. The natives, having taken up arms under the leadership of Aguinaldo, against their liberators, the 22rd infantry was returned to the Phillippine Islands a second time for service to assist in putting down the native uprising.

In 1904, having rounded out thirty years of service under his country's Flag, he was ordered back to the states, and retired from active service. After taking up the life of a civilian, he purchased a home in northern New York, in the Adirondack Mountains, where he resided until the death of his wife in 1925. After his bereavement, and long years of wandering, he returned to his "Old Mother State," and resided in Appomattox until the in roads of disease and infirmaties of old age, induced him to seek relief in a Washington hospital, where the old Veteran, answered his last roll call, Oct. 7, 1930.

Danger From Pork

Beware of trichinosis at this time of year. Most cases of this disease arise from eating raw or imperfectly cooked pork or products containing raw muscle tissue of swine. Trichinosis appears to cause swine very little trouble, but it is a painful and frequently fatal disease in man for which there is no dependable treatment re ently. Cooking pork or pork products thoroughly before eating is a dependable preventive. Trichinosis is most prevalent in the fall and winter when large numbers of hogs are slaughtered on farms and their products are eaten without adequate cooking.—U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

The Hi-Y district conference which was scheduled to take place at the High school on October 10 has been postponed until October 14 when Hi-Y workers from over the entire district will meet to discuss Hi-Y problems.

It was regretted by all, that Mrs. C. R. Harris could not be there.

Hi-Y CLUB NOTES

The Hi-Y Club held its regular meeting Wednesday. After the business matters were discussed. The boys discussed the question of "What we can do to make our school better?" The points were listed on the board and one of the out standing ones was destroying school property.

The club decided that the only way to prote t the school property was to report the boys or girls that are seen doing such things to Prof. Crawley in order that he may punish them.

The Club also discussed some ways in which they could raise money to support the club. Sponsoring the picture of "Byrd at the South Pole" was one of the ways suggested. Another was have a boxing and wrestling match some time in the near future in which Channy Wood, of Concord, will be one of the outstanding boxers.

Favorite Recipes of a Famous Chef

As Told to Anne Baker
By FREDERIC FRANCOIS GUILLOT
Chef, Hotel Astor, New York City

The two following recipes, Mr. Guillot points out, are sufficiently unusual to be well out of the ordinary routine of the family menu, but at the same time are both economical and easy to prepare.

Chef Guillot

Deviled Bones—Brush the drumsticks, wings or back of a cold fowl with melted butter. Mix together one tablespoon prepared mustard, one tablespoon curry powder. Cover the parts of the fowl with the mixture and broil lightly. Mix together over the fire one cup gravy, one tablespoon sugar, juice of one lemon, one tablespoon ketchup, few grains cayenne, and salt and pepper. Cook the parts of the fowl with the sauce for five minutes and serve.

Spanish String Beans—Shred two medium-size onions. Saute in two tablespoons butter until tender. Mix with two cups strained stewed tomatoes. Add salt and pepper to taste, one teaspoon sugar, and a few grains cayenne. Bring to boil and add one pound of freshly cooked string beans. Simmer for a quarter of an hour, add two teaspoons butter, and serve.

Favorite Bible Passages of Booth Tarkington

Novelist.

Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for My sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.—Matthew 5:3-12.

Better Breakfasts

"MARRIAGES may be made in heaven, but many a one is unmade at the breakfast table"—so someone has sagely said. If this is true, better breakfasts may mean better marriages, or at least sunnier ones.

Breakfast is such a simple meal to prepare!—no soups, no salads, no fuss!—why shouldn't we all serve better ones? Tiny biscuits may appear on the table in the twinkling of an eye, since biscuit dough, made the night before and placed in the ice-box, is the very best "makings" of a good biscuit. Juices come ready-prepared in our iced fruit drink, and eggs are three or four minutes affairs. Here is a breakfast that is light and yet amply nourishing:

Iced Pineapple Juice
Cracked Wheat and Cream
Four-Minute Eggs
Whole Wheat Cherry Muffins
Coffee

Whole Wheat Cherry Muffins

Break one egg, add two tablespoons of sugar and one cup of sour milk. Add the following sifted ingredients: one cup of flour and one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of soda and one-half teaspoon of salt. Then add one cup of whole wheat flour, unsifted. Add four tablespoons of melted butter and one-half cup of red-pitted, drained cherries cut in pieces. Bake in a hot oven for twenty to twenty-five minutes."

WHERE TO SHOP IN LYNCHBURG

Dear Shopper:

Shopping in Lynchburg these cool days is a very pleasant job, and the Lynchburg merchants are making it as easy a job as possible.

The Thrift Basement at D. Moses, Co., is quite attractive these days, be sure and visit this store while on your shopping tour and look over the many bargains they are offering to the Appomattox shoppers.

Bell's Shoe Store slogan "we clothe the Fee Complete," certainly expreses the services they are prepared to give you. Don't fail to look at their beautiful display of fall shoes while in Lynchburg.

A big anniversary sale is now at the Raylass Store and each department is joining in the big celebration. You will do yourself an injustice if you do not go in this store and find out all about it.

You will notice from the J. C. Penney ad, appearing on this page that they are thinking of your feet. This attractive store is carrying the latest of the fall shoes. While they emphasize the feet, they can clothe you from head to feet.

Now that we are having some cripsy weather we need to turn our minds to our home and ways to make it more attractive. All we have to do is to visit Schewels and consult them regarding our home needs They are in a position to inform us on any subject regarding making our home more beautiful.

If you have had the misfortune to wreck your car or dent it in any way, you will be glad to learn that Fry Virginia body and Fender Co. says there is no wreck beyond repair. A new manager is in charge here and a phone call will give you the quickest of service.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy so avoid being dull by stopping long enough to visit the Trenton Theater to see "Dawn Patrol" where nothing less picture now playing there.

The best way to go to Lynchburg is on the bus, splendid service is at your command, and the drivers are most careful. So you worry about a parking space too. The schedule is printed on this page.

And don't forget on your shopping tours to mention the ads in the Times Virginian.

Pulp Wood As An Aid

The large supply of pulpwood which local farmers have cut ready to be moved, apparently offers an obviously simple solution to this county of the financial depression resulting from the drouth, but paradoxically, the owners of the wood are finding it no solution at all.

Crop conditions this year have left farmers and land owners groping for sources of income which would tide them over, and those who have had pulpwood available, have put their hopes in it, with the result that a larger amount than usual has been prepared for market this year.

R. L. Burke, who owns appointed chairman of the Pulpwood Committee at the South Boston drouth relief meeting estimates that between $75,000 and $100,000 worth of pulpwood is ready for shipment in the county. Most of this wood has been contracted for, yet little of it will be delivered before six months, or possibly longer.

It was the consenus of the representatives at the South Boston meeting that the importing of Russian pulpwood is seriously affecting the home produced wood. The Russian wood brought to this country as ballast at practically no charge, is being delivered in Virginia and other states at a cost of about $5 a cord, while the local wood sells for around $10 a cord. Local producers cannot compete with the foreign product.

Charles Driscoll in The World and All column of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, writes concerning the importation of the Russian wood and the embargo which was clapped on it" and "clapped off" within a few days.

"There is some sort of Federal law that permits an embargo against goods produced by prison labor."

The other day I got first-hand a remarkable story originating in a paper mill that uses Russian wood pulp and buys it cheap.

Out of a great mass of wood pulp, a long stick of wood was taken. Such an object in a load of wood pulp is so rare as to attract attention. The stick was found to have been squared, probably with hand tools.

On the four sides of the stick were carved many Asian characters.

Translated, these characters told the story of the greyish hardships of the carver in a Soviet-political prisoners in the far prison camp in the north.

There was a plea for sym and whatever help the people could give.

This would seem to back American Governme tory that prison labor is production of Russian lu."

Definite and authoriti rmation as to whether asian wood is being pu by convict labor, and w much the quantity d has increased durin ast year would be most ting at this time. Th lity of moving the loca ems a development ast year.

At this time when s ne and effort are be nded over the country rts to relieve the pre ression, serious consi merited of the nar urces such as pulpwo r legislators.

TAX EXEMPTION

is difficult to understand purse being taken by some s in exempting new manufring industries from taxafor a definite period of

The proponents of such s that industries will seek ions in states where they exempted before they will ates where tax exemption s provided. If an industry is a tax crutch to support id keep it in existence, the nces are it will perish ay as soon as the ch is removed. A state be better off without than such industries.

Our recent survey showed that ty-two states do not offer exemptions to new manufacturing industries and sixteen offer such exemptions.

The latest states offering exemptions are Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Kentuckey, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, and Wyoming. Nine of the sixteen are southern states and are predominantly agricultural.

If these agricultural states feel they can afford to give tax exemptions to new industries in order that they may prosper, we feel that agriculture also should be exempted from taxation. Agriculture is the oldest industry that these states possess. It has remained with them through times of adversity and prosperity. It has suffered as a result of causes not of its own making. It needs assistance. If the states have bounties to dispense agriculture should share in them. If this practice of tax exemption for new industries persists, farmers should demand their share of the state dispensed subsidies. They will not be begging, they will be simply asking for their just proportion. No man should demand nor expect less—Southern Planter.

drawn up by Mr. Burke is a relief measure, which if acted upon, should bring results.

BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE AND ORDER OF NOTICE THEREON in the District Court of the United States

For the Lynchburg Division, Western District of Virginia.

In the Matter of, Charles Samuel Cawthorn, Bankrupt, No. 2565 in Bankruptcy.

To the Honorable Henry C. McDowell, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Virginia.

Charles Samuel Cawthorn, of Appomattox, in the County of Appomattox, and State of Virginia, in said District, respectfully represents that on the 13th day of December, last past he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

WHEREFORE, He prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said bankrupt acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 25th day of September, A. D. 1930.

Charles Samuel Cawthorn, Bankrupt.

ORDER OF NOTICE

Western District of Virginia

On this 2nd day of October, A. D. 1930, on reading the foregoing Petition for Discharge of the above-named Bankrupt, it is Ordered by the Court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 17th day of November, A. D. 1930, before the said court, at Lynchburg, in said district, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send, by mail, to all known creditors, copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness The Honorable Henry C. McDowell, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof at Lynchburg, in said district, on the 2nd day of October, A. D. 1930.

L. T. HYATT, Clerk.

Storing Cabbage

If no suitable storage house is available, late cabbage may be stored in a well-drained part of the field. Level an area wide enough for about five heads of cabbage to be placed, roots up, in a contiuous row. Wrap the outer leaves around the cabbage heads and cover them with a layer of straw or marsh hay. Where the weather is cold, cover them also with a layer of garth.

MARY, THE MOTHER OF JESUS: AN EXAMPLE OF MOTHERHOOD

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:15-19; John 2:1-5; 19:25-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—But Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart.—Luke 2:19.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Mary, the Mother of Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Mary, the Mother of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What We Owe Our Mothers.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Mother's Influence.

I. Who Mary Was (Luke 1:26, 27).

She was a Jewish maid of Nazareth. The first information we have of her is that she was engaged to be married to Joseph, a carpenter of the same village. The custom among the Jews was for betrothal to take place about a year before marriage. During this interval the woman remained with her parents.

II. Mary Accepted Motherhood at God's Command (Luke 1:28-35).

God sent Gabriel to Mary (vv. 26-28).

It was during this interval of betrothal before Joseph and Mary were married that God sent the angel Gabriel to announce to Mary that she was to be the mother of Jesus. More than seven hundred years before, Isaiah prophesied that a virgin should give birth to a son whose name should be called Immanuel—God With Us (Isaiah 7:14). Though at first perplexed, she accepted the announcement with remarkable courage and devotion. Mary accepted motherhood at a tremendous cost. She was conscious of her virgin purity. She knew that to become a mother under such circumstances would expose her to suspicion and shame. This was the view that certain Jews took of the matter, for they cast into the face of Jesus, that he was born of fornication (John 8:41). Her faith was such that she responded with noble courage.

2. Mary visits Elisabeth (Luke 1:39-45).

In her embarrassment she set out on a visit to an elderly kinswoman named "Elisabeth," where she could have the help of a woman of spiritual discernment.

3. Mary's song (vv. 46-56).

Having sought the sympathy and encouragement of her friend, her triumphant faith carried her beyond the misunderstanding and shame which awaited her, and caused her soul to burst out in a wonderful song of praise. As pointed out by another, three features of her character stand out in this song:

(1) Her heart purity.

Only a pure heart rejoices at the nearness of God.

(2) Her humility.

She forgot herself and gave her heart in praises to God.

(3) Her unselfishness.

She did not primarily think of the undying honor which would be attached to her, but the blessing which would come upon future generations through her.

4. The birth of Christ at Bethlehem (Luke 2:15-19).

What Gabriel announced to Mary was now being fulfilled. Caesar's decree concerning taxation brought Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem for the fulfillment of Micah 5:2. Because of the crowded inn, the birth of the world's Savior took place in a stable.

III. Mary's Faith in Her Son (John 2:1-5).

1. Her anxiety (v. 3).

The arrival of Jesus and his disciples put a drain upon the resources of the host, for their invitations were largely came after their arrival at Cana.

2. Mary presents the need to Jesus (v. 3).

The clear implication is that she requested him to embrace this opportunity to present his Messianic claims by working a miracle.

3. Jesus asserts his authority (v. 4). He respectfully reminded his mother that he had now passed from her authority and that his Father's will was supreme.

4. Mary's confidence (v. 5).

Perhaps as he asserted his authority he gave her a sign by which she understood that he would not fail her in her hour of embarrassment. Accordingly she directed the servants to carry out whatever instructions he should give.

IV. A Dying Son's Thought for His Mother (John 19:25-27).

It is beautiful to note the tender care which Jesus in his dying hour manifested for his mother. He committed her to the care of John. John accepted the responsibility of a son and took her to his own home.

Veni, Vidi, Vici

I came, I saw, I conquered, may be inscribed by the Savior on every monument of grace. I came to the sinner; I looked upon him; and with a look of omnipotent love, I conquered.—Toplady.

Prayer

Prayer is the act by which man, detaching himself from the embarrassments of sense and nature, ascends to the true level of his destiny.—H. P. Liddon.

Awake Half the Night Weak and in Pain

NIGHT after night I could not sleep," writes Mrs. Mary J. Roberts, 117 West Franklin St., Raleigh, N. C. "I would lie awake half the night. I was dizzy and weak, suffered frequently with pains in my side and small part of my back.

"When I was a girl, my mother gave me Cardui, and it did me so much good, I thought I would try it again. I took five bottles, and I feel like a new person.

"I think it is fine. I would advise every woman who is weak to try Cardui, for it has certainly put me on my feet."

For Over 50 Years Women Have Taken CARDUI with great benefit
